How would you gauge your productivity on a scale of 1-10? Do you think every moment you spend at your work desk yields as much result as you would like? Or do you feel that you could do a lot more only if you were not bogged down by the many small things that you have to do in order to set your operations in order?

Think of the mindless things you do every single day, week, month or even year that take up your time; it could be booking for hotels, marketing your kindle books, responding to customer queries, writing complaint letters, proofreading, editing website content, researching about some information you found recently and lots of other things.

This book is meant to give you a quick summary of the important bits on how to actually outsource, automate, and specialize as taught in The 4 Hour Week. Well, Ferris doesn't use outsource, automate and specialize in his book. Instead, he uses the acronym DEAL to represent the four main chapters in the book.

DEAL in this case means Definition, Elimination, Automation and Liberation.
